

We are searching for our new Championship Group Coach

Solna Sunbyberg Simsällskap (SS04) is a swimming club based out of Stockholm, Sweden. SS04 is currently hosting 2,000 members with a constant, healthy growth over the past several years. Our club is comprised of a "learn-to-swim program", a technique-school, our competitive swimming system, and even a solid masters program. Our club is currently searching for a new coach for the club's highest group as our current coach is moving to the USA to pursue a coaching job within the NCAA college system.

Your profile

We are searching for a coach that is engaging and knowledgeable with a natural desire in developing our best swimmers swimming career. Our club's ambition is to be one of the leading swim clubs in the country, and we are looking for a coach to help drive this process forward. Coming into this job you should have a strong coaching background with proven experience and a relatable education. Having swum at a "high level" yourself is also a preferred quality.

Job description

- Plan and execute the teams training sessions and overall season planning
- Responsible for all competition preparations concerning the group
- Organize team meetings, competitions, and planning/budgeting of training trips
- Participate in the planning of the club's overall growth and development including meetings and "office time" with fellow colleagues
- Oversight of the national sports education program (Nationell Idrottsutbildning, NIU)

Background information

Our team is spread between two municipalities, both Solna and Sundbyberg. From these municipalities we utilize multiple different pools in the area, however, the majority of training is based out of two separate short course meter pools and during the summer months, we training outdoors in LCM pool. There are currently plans for a new 10 lane 25m pool in the city of Solna, which is expected to finish in 2020.

In cooperation with the city of Solna, our club runs a national sports education program (Nationell Idrottsutbildning, NIU) where high schools can more easily combine their swimming career with their studies. This program is based out of in Solna Gymnasium (Highschool) which the head coach will be responsible for the oversight of the training sessions of this program. It gives our swimmers the great opportunity to combine swimming at an elite level alongside their education.

As the head coach of our championship group, you are a part of a professional team of colleagues known as "Team Simsport" where you collectively work to develop the competitive section of the club, through workshops and meetings.
